To whom it concerns,

I am writing to apply for the position as instructor for Mobile Software Development, based on the job posting at sdu.dk.

I am a 24 year old Software Engineering master's student, and I have one year left of my studies. I live in Odense with, and in my free time I work on small projects, such as developing mobile applications in React Native, which fits very well with this position.

Feel free to contact me by phone or email at any time.

Best regards
